City of Delafield Park & Recreation Commission

April 2003

Your input is needed to help the Park and Recreation Commission update its five-year plan for priorities and services to you, its residents. Responses we receive will help us prioritize and budget for park and recreation activities for the City of Delafield in the coming years.

 Please take a few minutes now and help shape the future of our community. ***

Please indicate your responses to the three questions that follow and return by the date indicated at the end. Responses will be tabulated and made available to the citizens in a summarized form. No individual responses will be made public without specific permission.

Recreational Programs

Do you think there are adequate recreational opportunities for Delafield residents?

City-sponsored recreational programs require each participant to pay for the activity itself. Organizing, scheduling, promoting and supervising the programs are city-funded general expenses. Please circle your response for each of the activities below.

Delafield's New Community Park

How do you think Delafield's new community park land should be used?

Master site planning will begin shortly for the new 39-acre "Geason Family" parcel purchased in 2001. Located on the north side of Oakwood Road, approximately ¼ mile west of Hwy 83 and east of Lake Nagawicka, the parcel is classified as a community park and will contain areas for both organized sports and nature-oriented activities. The current master plan includes a street on the eastern edge of the property. Space has also been designated for a possible future fire station. Your response will help in the planning and development of this park.

Please rank, 1-9, in order of importance, your choices among all the activities you think should be available in this community park.
